A LIFE POLICY
Placed in the Right Company.

[CORRESPONDENCE.]
WALLACE EVERSON, Esq., General Agt.
New England Mutual Life Insurance Co.,
Of Boston, San Francisco, Cal.

DEAR SIR: On the third of September, 1878, C. H. Stevens died of pneumonia in this city. He was a member of Pacific Lodge, No. 1, F. O. E. W., and we, the undersigned, his friends and brothers of the same lodge, were with him, and cared for him during his last illness. After his death, it became our duty to see to the welfare of his widow and three little children. We all knew that Mr. Stevens had been very poor. Calling upon his widow and asking to see his papers, we found among them a paid up policy of Insurance on his life for $500 in a Hartford Company, and also an old policy in your company for $10,000. This policy Mrs. Stevens told us her husband said was ENTIRELY WORTHLESS, as no premium had been paid for the last three years, the last receipt bearing date January 1st, 1875. Knowing something of the New England Mutual, we determined to look further into the matter, making the necessary inquiries, through you, we were informed, to our great delight, that the policy was, in all probability, still valid and binding. The proper application and proofs being duly forwarded to the Company, our most sanguine hopes were confirmed, and in due time the Company, without having in any way attempted to stir up its responsibility in the matter, and without having given the claimant the slightest trouble or expense, paid Mrs. STEVENS the sum of $2,180.02, that being the amount of the policy, less the premium actually due for three years, with simple interest thereon. Our brother's widow and his three little ones were thus handsomely provided for, and we, his brothers in the Order, as business men, fully cognizant of all the circumstances, wish to express to you our opinion that nothing could have been more prompt, honorable and liberal than the manner in which Mrs. STEVENS' claim was adjusted by the NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

We remain, dear sir, very respectfully,
